VILLA NOT DEAD--BODY PROVES TO BE THAT OF BANDIT WOUNDED BY U. S. CAVALRYMEN

Mexican Authorities Say Officially That Body is Not Villa's

Ominous Reports From Parral Giving Grave Concern To Washington Authorities--Villa Expedition is Halted

CARRANZA TROOPS ARE MOBILIZING

Chihuahua, April 21.—(By United Press)—Francisco Villa is not dead. The body supposed to be that of the bandit chief is that of a member of his band who died following the fight with Major Tompkins' detachment, and was buried in the lonely grave where the mortal remains of Villa were said to repose.

This information was given out officially here today by General Luis Guiterrez, commander of the Carranza garrison, who declares that his information is positive and authentic. As yet the body of the man thought to be Villa has not been viewed by the Americans detailed by the state department to confirm reports of his death.

Chihuahua, April 21.—Three important announcements were made here today. They were:

1.—The body supposed to be that of Villa was that of another man.

2.—American troops have been ordered not to proceed south of Parral by Major Herrero, of Parral.

3.—The United States troops in Mexico will soon be retired.

General Louis Gutierrez, [illegible] commander at Chihuahua, officially gave out the first two statements. The third was published in the newspaper El Democrata, which based its authority on an alleged dispatch from Washington saying that the United States government would need all of its troops soon for war on Germany.

Gutierrez stated that the body exhumed has proved to be that of a Villabandit and not the commander himself. He added that he did not know whether Villa is dead or alive.

Newspapers today gave Carranza credit for successfully repulsing the attack on Americans. It was also reported that concentration of the Carranza troops south of Parral is to safeguard against any further advance. Two thousand troops of the Morelos and Juarez garrison have reinforced Carranza at Parral. Ten miles north of Parral 1000 cavalrymen under Colonels Brown and Allen are massed.

Gutierrez is doing his best to prevent strained relations, but is opposed by both the Herrera faction and the populace.

The situation is a critical one and it is believed here that the knocking away of a chip will cause a clash. The Carranza troops are inactive so far as Villa is concerned.

Chihuahua American colonists now there throughout theCHRDLUPUU number but 25. People who remained there throughout the former troubles have gone away in belief that a serious crisis is imminent. General Pershing withdrew his advance detachment to save them from possible attack, according to staff officers at General Funston's headquarters today.

Pershing's main advices have not been given out but were said to contain details of the attitude shown by Carranza' troops toward the American expedition chasing Villa.

Funston's staff officers have prepared a report for Chrief of Staff Ccott. The exact nature of the incidents on which their declarations were based was not revealed, but it was stated the Americans fell back from Parral only when a plan to wipe them out became evident. The expedition was stalled today.

Washington, D. C., April 21.—Confirmation of reports that Carranza troops are being mobolized in the path of General Pershing's forces was received at both the state and war departments late today.

Mexican troops lately stationed at Chihuahua have been sent to a point south of Pershing's most advanced troops. Troops withdrawn from Sonora are being held with apparent purpose of being thrown across the American line somewhere between Casas Grandes and the American frontier.

General Scott who has reported for consultation with General Funston is now generally known to have been the result of authentic information that Pershing was menaced from the south and that his line of communication with the north was imperilled.

Secret movements of American troops have been made with an eye to this emergency, so that army officials confidently stated tonight that General Pershing is in a position to meet the worst contingency.

A fact to be ascertained by General Scott, the officers here state, is whether the movement of the Mexican troops have been dictated by Carranza or whether they have been sponsored by the governor of Chihuahua and his subordinates.

If General Scott reports that Carranza was responsible his report will go to the state department for action. If however his report shows that the movement has been undertaken by the governor of Chihuahua and various minor officials and Carranza does not stop them, then the war department will know what to expect. Recent information in Washington is that Carranza has no control over the governors of Chihuahua and Sonora.

Dispatches to the state department report continued fighting between Yaqui Indians and Carranza troops in the state of Sonora.

CLEARFIELD WILL HAVE INDEPENDENT MILITARY COMPANY

Much Interest Displayed In Movement---Thirty Enlist In Organization

District Attorney Welsh Elected Temporary Chairman—Many Prominent Men Interested In Move for Military Company.

At a preparedness meeting held last evening in the auditorium of the Y. M. C. A. it was definitely decided toorganize an independent military company in Clearfield. This meeting was called for the purpose of seeing how many would be interested in such a movement and to lay plans for the permanent organization. About fifty men and boys attended the meeting and showed much enthusiasm over the proposed organization.

District Attorney Welsh took the chair and asked for nominations for a temporary chairman. F. B. Kerr nominated Mr. Welsh who was unanimously elected. Fred Prosser was then elected secretary. These officers will be in charge until a permanent organization is formed.

Mr. Welsh then outlined the purpose of the meeting and gave a short address on "The Need of Preparedness in America." He then gave considerable information about how the rifles, uniforms and other equipment can be obtained from the national and state governments. The difference between a rifle club and a military company was then discussed by him.

Mr. Welsh has been planning for the organization of a military company here for some time and has secured a great amount of information from the national and state governments concerning such a movement.

Mr. Kerr, a graduate of West Point then told of the need of an organization of this sort in Clearfield and discussed the benefits that may be derived from the training.

After Mr. Kerr's talk a general discussion of the questions was held in which several of those present took part. Following the discussion, Clark Boyer moved that an independent military organization be formed which it was moved that a committee be appointed by the chair to enlist men in the company, to propose a name for the organization and to set a date for the next meeting. Mr. Welsh appointed G. W. Shillingford, Elmer Kurtz and John Bain on this committee.

An opportunity was then given for all those present to sign the official papers and become charter members of the organization. About thirty present signed their names and became members of this organization. Any young man wishing to join in this move is invited to do so. The committee will call on as many young men as possible during the next week and extend to them an opportunity of identifying themselves with this organization.

A meeting will be held sometime next week although the date has not been set. Announcement will be made in this paper of the meeting.

$60,000 Budget to be Taken Up Tonight by Borough Council

Desire to Insure Passage of Bond Issue Cause of Reduction In Estimates Of Funds for Immediate Use

BELIEVED REDUCED AMOUNT WILL PASS

The council will meet again tonight to consider the street paving budget following the elimination from it of a number of items which will materially reduce the sum required for immediate use.

In yesterday's report of the proceedings of the council, the Progress unconsciously gave the impression that a wide difference of opinion existed between the members of the highway committee, the burgess and the other members of the council. This is by no means correct. The council is unanimously in favor of a paving budget which will meet every requirement and would pass the original ordinance without a dissenting vote but for the fact that many members of the body fear that so large a sum might not be agreed to by the voters at this time.

It is to insure success of a bond issue of sufficient size to take care of absolutely essential repairs that the budget is being revised downward, members of the council believing that a smaller issue will stand a far better chance of success than a sum as the $100,000 issue which was vetoed by the burgess.

As it will be presented tonight the budget will carry a total of approximately $60,000, which will be specifically allotted to the paving of the following streets: Daisy street, Bigler avenue to 11th street; Nichols street, from West End to 2nd street bridge, to Turnpike avenue; Second street, from Ogden avenue to Spruce street; Third street, from Bridge street to Bigler avenue; Fourth street from Spruce street to Machine Shop alley. Other needed repairs to small sections of paved streets will be taken care of in the budget.

The suggestion offered several days ago by the Progress that a banner or sign be erected on Daisy street near the intersection of the state road, informing tourists that provision is being made as rapidly as possible for the repaving of the uptorn streets of the borough, will be presented to council tonight by the highway committee, to whom the suggestion appeals as a simple means of informing strangers that the borough is not satisfied to permit its streets to remain in the condition they are now in.

It is believed that the $60,000 budget to be offered tonight to replace the larger one will be accepted by the council, and that an election on the question will be ordered for May 16, the date of the spring primaries.

Germany Wants To Retain Friendship Of United States, But Will Not Comply With Wilson's Demand

BY CARL W. ACKERMAN
UNITED PRESS STAFF CORRESPONDENT

(Copyrighted 1916 by the United Press Association. Copyrighted in Great Britain.)

Berlin, April 20, via Wireless to Tuckerton, N. J., April 21.—"Germany can go no further in her concessions to the United States," Admiral von Holzendorff, chief of the German admiralty staff, declared in an interview with the United Press today. "But remember," said the German admiralty head later during the course of the interview "that we have no desire for a break with the United States. That would be insanity. We will not bring it about despite our desire to push vigorously our submarine warfare."

"We did not sink the Sussex," said Admiral Von Holzendorff. "I am as convinced of that as of anything which has happened in this war. If you could read the definite instructions, the exact orders each submarine commander has, you would understand that the torpedoing of the Sussex was impossible. Many of our submarines have returned from rounding up British vessels. They sighted scores of passenger ships going between England and America but not one of these was attacked, although we know everyone of them was carrying war munitions for the allies.

"We have definitely agreed to warn the crews anu passengers of passenger liners. We have lived up to that promise in every way, but we cannot be asked to regard freight ships in the same manner. This is beyond the border for any belligerent nation. I speak in straightforward manner. We could have destroyed hundreds of thousands of tons of enemy ships since the beginning of the submarine war except for the promises we gave the United States, but we cannot go further. Five months more will see what we can do to British shipping. The ring around the British isles will grow tighter and tighter, then we shall see whether England will still maintain that she cannot make peace until Germany is destroyed.

"The allies could have had peace long ago but they still cling to the idea of starving Germany into submission. The longer they cling to the idea of starving Germany into submission, the longer we cling on and prolong the war, the greater will be their bill.

"What I said about freight ships applies only to enemy freight ships. We are not going to torpedo and we have not torpedoed without warning and without examining the ships papers or crew, any neutral ships, despite reports which the enemy is spreading. We are not out to torpedo without warning neutral ships bound for England.

"If diplomatic relations with America are broken our submarines can attack any enemy ship without warning But remember, we have no desire for a break with the United States. That will be insanity. We shall not bring it about despite our desire to push vigorously our submarine warfare. We do not think the American people want to declare war against Germany for the way she is conducting her submarine war now. I don't think the American people want to do everything they can to help England win, even by protecting England's freight ships with American lives. People must remember that it is risky to travel on the seas to and from England."

Reply To President's Note Is Not Expected to be Written for a Week

Berlin, April 21.—(By United Press)—[illegible] Wilson's note de[illegible] that Germany abandon her present submarine policy and the threatened [illegible] of a diplomatic break was conveyed to the Kaiser and the German people today. The text of the note which was delivered to the official office at [illegible] last night by Ambassador Gerard was telegraphed to grand army headquarters for the emperor's immediate perusal. Several hours later it was circulated through Germany by the official news agency and printed in today's papers. The newspapers thus far have made no comment.

Because today is Good Friday it is practically impossible to obtain any official expression from the foreign office. It was indicated last night that no comment would be made until Chancellor von Bethmann Hollweg returns from his Easter visit to the Kaiser, probably on Monday. There is little linkelihood that any reply will be sent to Washington before the end of next week.

Poor old Villa! Still dragging that bum leg southward while his head is going north!

Billious Willie Bryan is again on the job in Washington trying to throw wrenches into the machinery.

There may not be many anti-military fathers of of families in this country today but the anti-millinery paterfamilias could rout the combined armies of Europe.

It is beginning to look as if the "uncontrollable hatred" the Mexicans feel for us is nothing more than a lack of respect.

A sage rises to remark that for every .22 calibre candidate to be found on the county Republican ticket, there is a two-by-twice Democrat.

NO DODGING THIS ISSUE.

It is difficult to understand the reasoning of those who assume that there is still a possibility of further negotiations with Germany, that another series of notes might precede the breaking off of the diplomatic relations. The language of the President is too plain for mistake. He does not ask for promises or pledges, or even at this time for reparation for past injuries. He says distinctly that submarine attacks on merchantmen are "utterly incompatible with the principles of humanity, the long-established and incontrovertible rights of neutrals and the sacred immunities of noncombatants," and that therefore they must be abandoned if the official friendship between Germany and the United States is to be maintained. To assume that he will accept anything less, that assurances of the too familiar kind will avert action once more, is to cast doubt upon his sincerity and good faith. If, after enduring an intolerable situation until patience had ceased to be a virtue, he withdrew one step from the position he has at last taken, the nation would be indescribably humiliated. Such a contingency should not be considered within the range of possibility.—Public Ledger.

TEMPERANCE BODY ENDORSES THREE G.O.P. CANDIDATES

Enthusiastic Meeting of County Temperance League Held In Y.M.C.A. Building

Several Resolutions Adopted by Meeting—Remonstrance Consuls Commended by League—Dr. Buckingham, of Mahaffey Presided.

An enthusiastic meeting of the Clearfield county temperance league was held here yesterday morning and afternoon in the class room of the Y. M. C. A. here at which about fifty temperance workers were present. The principal business of the meeting was the endorsement of three candidates for the general assembly. Six Republican candidates and two Democratic candidates were acceptable to the organization but only five were endorsed.

The following Republican candidates received the endorsement of the Temperance League: A. [illegible] of Du Bois, a former member of the assembly; W. E. Peterson [illegible] and Joseph E. Phillips of Clearfield, member of the last Assembly. A. [illegible] Woodward of Curwensville, and Mr. Currier, of Grampian, withdrew as candidates. A. H. Woodward, another Republican was acceptable but was not at the meeting.

The Democratic candidates endorsed by the League are Irwin N[illegible] Penfield, and Archer H. Read, of Clearfield.

Following the endorsement of these candidates a number of resolutions were adopted, pledging the support of the league to the local option candidates, covering the license situation of the county, commending the efficient conduct of the remonstrance fight as waged by chief consul R. D. Swoope, of Curwensville and assistants, J. C. Arnold, of DuBois, and Oscar Mitchell, of Clearfield. A resolution was also offered commending the liquor interests for the publication of the "Blue Book."

R. D. Swoope, of Curwensville, made a short address at the afternoon session explaining the liquor situation in the county and outlining the fight to be made against the liquor candidates at the coming election.

The chair was then authorized to appoint a committee to devise plans completing the organization of the Temperance League and to make a report at the next meeting.

Dr. H. W. Buckingham, of Mahaffey, president of the Clearfield county temperance league presided over both sessions yesterday.

Today's Geographic Study of The Great European War Zone

"The great province of Kwangtung, third in size of the 18 political divisions of China proper, in modern times has been the center of many of the political activities which have disturbed the Celestial empire, and it is not surprising that its people should be among the first to declare their independence from the national government," says a bulletin of the National Geographic society of Washington, issued today.

"It was in this province," continues the bulletin, "that the Young China movement had its birth in 1895. The secret societies of Canton, the capital, practically financed the revolution which followed, resulting 17 years later in the overthrow of the Manchu dynasty and the establishment of a republic with Dr. Sun Yat-sen as the first president. Dr. Sun himself came from Canton and was the first graduate of the college of medicine at Kong-kong.

"The Cantonese have been an inspiration to phrase-makers for years. Because of their gift for political organization they have been called 'the Irish of China,' while their penchant for political unrest caused them to be dubbed rebellion-makers in ordinary to the Chinese people.' Historians see a striking analogy between Canton's relation to the Chinese nation in 1912 and that of Paris to provincial France in 1789.

"Many factors have contributed to the unrest in the province of Kwangtung, one of the most important being the struggle for sheer existence in a state which with an area equal to South Dakota has to support a population fifty times as great.

"Canton itself is a city of seething humanity with streets so narrow that only coolies can be employed as 'beasts of burden.' A large percentage of the people live in small boats which form a floating floor on the thick waters of the Pearl river. So precious is space that the ships are reduced to mere boxes; so close is the margin of profit and so small the purchases that beans and peanuts are sold by individual count.

"Geographically, the two provinces of Kwangf-si and Kwang-tung are cut off from Northern and Central China by mountain ranges which are moderately rich in minerals—iron, gold and a cheap grade of coal. The soil is fertile and some of the products are sugar, cocoanuts, and betelnuts. Silk, firecrackers, matting, ginger and palm-leaf fans are the chief exports.

"The Cantonese were among the first Chinese people to come in general contact with the outside world. The Arabs reached the shores of the maritime province in the tenth century and soon these hardy sailors were acting as captains of Chinese junks sailing to Manila, Java, Borneo and Siam. The first Europeans to reach Canton by sea were the Portugese. Two years before Cortez landed in Mexico, Emanuel, king of Portugal, sent an ambassador with eight ships around the Cape of Good Hope to induce the Emperor of China to sanction trade relations with the nation of navigators. The mission was successful and the visitors were allowed to enter the harbor of Canton.

"More than a hundred years later the English arrived and met with a hostile reception on account of a recent rupture in the friendly relations between the Portuguese and the natives. It was not until 1685 that the emperor finally sanctioned trade relations with Great Britian, naming Canton as the only port of entry.

"Of Canton's population, variously estimated at from 900,000 to 1,500,000 only about 400 are foreigners, most of whom reside in the Sha-mien settlement, an artificial island reclaimed by the British from an extensive mud flat.

"Although characterized by Caucasian observers as sallen in their political antipathies, the Cantonese are a cheerful, industrious and intelligent people in their daily lives. They accept philosophically their many hardships and receive with stoical fortitunde the visitations of pestilence, which from time to time removes much of the surplus population.

"Perhaps it was the scarcity of food which caused the Cantonese to include in their menus many 'delicacies' not so classed by Western people. For example, there is a breed of dog which is fattened in this great city and much prized by those who can afford more than a rice diet. Cats, hawks and birds' nests are also regard as appetizing viands."

SAGE TEA DANDY TO DARKEN HAIR

It's Grandmother's Recipe to Bring Back Color and Lustre to Your Hair

You can turn gray, faded hair beautifully dark and lustrous almost over night if you'll get a 50-cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound" at any drug store. Millions of bottles of this old famous Sage Tea recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, are sold annually, says a well-known druggist here, because it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that no one can tell it has been applied.

Those whose hair is turning gray or becoming faded have a surprise awaiting them, because after one or two applications the gray hair vanishes and your locks become luxuriantly dark and beautiful.

This is the age of youth. Gray-haired, unattractive folks aren't wanted around. So get busy with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound tonight and you'll be delighted with dark, handsome hair and your youthful appearance within a few days.

This preparation is a toilet requisite and is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

Fashion Hints By Margaret Mason

BY MARGARET MASON
(Written for the United Press.)

To have all things harmonious
As much as she was able,
In home and dress and everything,
Essayed aesthetic Mabe

And so they'd be in rythm with
Her nifty garden smocks
The sole blooms in her garden were
Stocks, hollyhocks and phlox.

New York, April 21.—When you stand in the midst of your garden, whether it be a sunken Italian one or a raised window box, do you want to look the fairest flower of the lot?

If you do, it's very simple, Maud. All you need is a smock of becoming hue, a wide floppy straw hat and one of those fascinating garden baskets raised on a long wicker stick.

All your zinnias, gladiolas, begonias, and cannas will simply droop their heads in the face of such ravishing combination.

Surely Maud Muller must have been thus attired when her Judge lingered a bit as he rode by. Most any good judge nowadays would do the same.

Beginning at the top of the crowning glory of the garden outfit is the hat; and its only essentials are that it be big, floppy and blossoming.

Those of the cane chair seat weave are smart, bound in a color to match your smock, with a twist of the same around the crown. Peanut straws, leghorns, panamas and loose grass woven hats are all lovely; and wide brimmed ones covered in flowered cretonne or awning stripes to match your skirt also are good.

If you want to go in for Oriental gardening the artistic Cone hats are perfect, but if you top yourself off thus you will have to taboo the smock and awning stripe skirt, for garments modeled after a Chinese woman's coat and skirt. Otherwise your outfit would not be in perfect accord according to aesthetic Mabel. These effects really are the very newest spring crop of gardening gear and most original.

The awning stripe skirts this season are not only the broad stripes of a bright color alternating with white, like we had last year; but revel in a riotous array of colored stripes in four or five hectic hues, like a Bakst ballet. They all are very short and button down the front with either yawning slashed pockets set in either side, or poffy pouched ones set on.

The artistic willow baskets set on their long sticks come in either natural coloring or may be stained to suit. They contain, of course, the most fascinating collection of gardening tools: a trowel whose handle is gay with paint, a pair of shears and your garden gloves.

Adorable watering pots blooming with hand painted nosegays, and rakes with well decorated handles are a few other indispensible accessories of the fashionable garden.

Oh yes, and there are quaint and practical garden aprons too, the best model of which are the newest, is of striped material bound in a plain color with a bib and straps over the shoulders.

It is long so that you may stoop in the wet grass without dampening your skirt or your ardor and yet at will it buttons up to a desirable shortness and by this act turns itself into a capacious pocket.

So open up your garden gate
Besmok yourself all up to date
And seeds of love will quickly grow
In hearts of all who see you so—and sow.

Why it Has Restored My Health so Perfectly that it Seems a Miracle"

Yes, sir this Tanlac beats anything I have ever before used," declared P Shively, a well-known farmer who lives at 1007 Third St., Altoona Pa

I feel now as I was so good. Tanlac has restored my health so perfectly that it seems more like a miracle than anything else.

I suffered from stomach trouble. My indigestion was all out of order so I couldn't eat Whenever I undertook to eat anything solid, I would suffer from gas on my stomach and a belching feeling that lasted for several hours afterward

My nerves were also out of order and I couldn't sleep sound and restful at night I would wake up in the morning feeling heavy and tired and I could scarcely muster enough energy to get up and dress myself I seldom ever could eat breakfast

After taking two bottles of Tanlac my stomach seems in perfect order I can eat good and never suffer with indigestion in all my life My weight has increased three pounds by Tanlac. I simply can't get enough to eat now.

Tanlac is now sold in Clearfield exclusively by Woodward & McCracken where the premier preparation can be had

ON THE SCREEN

BLOOD HOUNDS IN MOTION PICTURES

"Eliza's exciting passage of the Ohio River, leaping from cake to cake of swiftly moving ice," as advertised, announced and translated, with more or less realism, to the stage of the innumerable "Uncle Tom's Cabin" shows for years past (and probably for centuries to come) may be accepted as a mild affair against the possibilities of a chase by real bloodhounds for the edification of moving picture "fans."

In the Bluebird Photoplay, "The Grip of Jealousy," to be the attraction at the Opera House, on Monday evening, an exciting chase by bloodhounds of a girl slave is photographed in actual detail. The methods of handling the dogs, the way they take up and follow the scent, and the details of tracing and finding the object of their search are pictured in interesting minuteness.

Of added interest is the fact that the scene was taken during a drenching rain, driven by a gale of wind, while the trackers were operating in the undergrowth and tangled brush of a dense forest Not once in a year, among all the pictures that are produced in the country, does the director of a company of photoplayers have a downpour of rain to fit a scene just when and how he wants it

Rain generally is produced for picture purposes by artificial effect—but in "The Grip of Jealousy" only nature itself could supply the theatrical effect that was absolutely essential to a proper showing of scenes The weather man, rare genius of contraries, surprised himself and everybody else by sending the deluge to drench the photoplayers and lend the realism of Mother Nature to make a most remarkable scene absolutely authentic in every requisite.

STATE ROADS DAY WILL BE BEST EVER HELD

Indications Show it Will go Far Ahead of Predecessors

Harrisburg, April 1?.—That the State-wide Good Roads Day of 1915 will go far ahead of its predecessor in good results is evidenced by reports received at the State Highway Department [illegible] from county organizations throughout the State. One of the most characteristic indications of this is the activity being taken by civic bodies, chambers of Commerce, boards of trade and other like organizations in furthering the project.

In Warren the Chamber of Commerce, which issues a monthly bulletin called "The Warren Idea," is foremost in urging all citizens to make the State-wide Good Roads Day successful. In the April issue of the paper there is an editorial which says in part:

"Undoubtedly our organization will be called upon to take the lead in organizing Warren County for 'bigger and better G. R. D.' Our officers believe they accomplished a very important work last year in the organization of a county-wide effort for improved roads. The success attained in the effort justifies the hope that similar methods pursued this year, with the same enthusiastic cooperation on the part of all, centering the activities of the day in the township boards of supervisors, will produce far more important results."

The success of the 1915 "State-wide Good Roads Day" is then reviewed and attention is called to the fact that approximately 1,500 men and boys and 300 teams worked hard all day to improve the Warren County roads. In many localities, the paper continues, women and girls helped by providing a bountiful noonday luncheon and a few women worked on the roads. The article concludes by calling upon Warren County to set a fast pace for other counties of the state.

1200 WILL TALK ACROSS CONTINENT

Boston, Mass., April 19.—A novel banquet is to be held at the City Club here tomorrow night to celebrate the first anniversary of transcontinental telephone service. Many Prominent Americans Will Attend National Conference

New York, April 19.—(By United Press)—A national conference to promote the use of school buildings as community and civic centers began in New York today and will end April 22.

The conference is attended by seventy community leaders from different parts of America, including Professor John Dewey, of Columbia University; Dr. John H. Finley, commissioner of education in New York; Henry Bruere, city chamberlain, of New York, Joseph Lee, president of the Playground and Recreation Association of America, Edward J. Ward, of the United States bureau of education, Mrs. J.J. Borden Harriman, Professor Samuel McCune Lindsey, William G. Wilcox, president of the New York board of education, Meyer Bloomfield of Boston and Charles McCarthy of Wisconsin.

The president of the conference is Dr. Luther H. Gulick, president of the Camp Fire girls of America.

Among the speakers will be Professor Franz Boas, Alfred G. Arnold, founder of the Little Country Theatre of North Dakota; Percy Mackaye, Edward J. Ward, professor James Ford, of Harvard, and Dr. Haven Emerson, New York City's commissioner of health.

A leading note of the conference will be the financing of the wider use of school buildings through methods of local self-support. The activities of community centers include social dancing, the teaching of immigrants, vocation and employment bureaus, health teaching, motion pictures, dramatics, community orchestras and choruses, athletics and craftwork.

IDAHO REPUBLICAN CONVENTION

Twin Falls, Ida., April 19.—Delegates are gathering for the Republican State convention of Idaho, which will meet tomorrow to select delegates to the presidential nominating convention at Chicago. Opinion expressed by the party leaders, however, indicate that, with Borah out of the running, the delegates will be ready to support Roosevelt, if his name is presented to the Chicago convention.

TO CRIPPLE GERMAN TRADE

Paris, April 19.—Economic results that will be felt throughout the world are expected to follow the conference of the Entente Allies which will meet in Paris tomorrow to discuss a plan of campaign to successfully meet German trade competition after the close of the war. The principal topic of discussion will be a scheme for the mutual exchange of commodities under a tariff system favorable to the allied nations. The proposed tariff system, according to plans tentatively outlined, will call for the establishment of minimum rates among the allies and their colonies, reasonable rates for neutrals and strong discrimination against all dealings with the Teutonic allies. The conference promises to be a most imposing gathering from the viewpoint of its personnel. Delegates from England, Russia, Italy, Belgium and France have already arrived in Paris and among them are several cabinet ministers. The sessions of the conference are expected to continue through the remainder of the week. President Poincaire has accepted an invitation to preside at the opening.

ABSOLUTE CONSCRIPTION URGED IN ENGLAND

London, April 20.—(By United Press.)—All-round conscription is being more and more strongly urged in England.

It is only partial as yet. Unmarried men up to the age of 41 have been called to the colors, but with numerous exceptions. The call for married men has applied only to those who have declared their willingness to serve.

The element known to the "ginger group" wants to make the conscription unanimous all-embracing. It is also urged that men up to 45 be included.

The "ginger group" contention is that the war is now at its most critical stage and many more men are needed immediately.

If the enemy is not beaten during the next few months [illegible] the London Express, "the struggle may go on until Europe is bankrupt and we are forced to agree to an [illegible] peace. The [illegible] is now demand prompt, swift action."

Hot Water for Sick Headaches

Tells why everyone should drink hot water with phosphate in it before breakfast.

Headache of any kind, is caused by autointoxication—which means self-poisoning. Liver and bowel poisons called toxins, sucked into the blood, through the lymph ducts, excite the heart which pumps the blood so fast that it congests in the smaller arteries and veins of the head producing violent, throbbing pain and distress, called headache. You become nervous, despondent, sick, feverish and miserable, your meals sour and almost nauseate you. Then you resort to acetanilide, aspirin or the bromides which temporarily relieve but do not rid the blood of these irritating toxins.

A glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, drank before breakfast for awhile, will not only wash these poisons from your system and cure you of headache but will cleanse, purify and freshen the entire alimentary canal.

Ask your pharmacist for a quarter pound of limestone phosphate. It is inexpensive, harmless as sugar and almost tasteless, except for a sourish twinge which is not unpleasant.

If you aren't feeling your best, if tongue is coated or you wake up with bad taste, foul breath or have colds, indigestion, biliousness, constipation or sour, acid stomach, begin the phosphated hot water cure to rid your system of toxins and poisons.

Results are quick and it is claimed that those who continue to flush out the stomach, liver and bowels every morning never have any headache or know a miserable moment.

AN OFFICE BOY WHO WAS A GENUINE HERO IN BATTLE

BY WILBUR S. FORREST
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

London, April 19.—There has just reached London the story of a $5 a week office boy, 15 years old, who died a hero among the bravest of the brave of King George's finest on Gallipoli peninsula.

It is a story to thrill the heart of every office boy in the United States, this recital of what happened to Cyril Cook, after he left the drab surroundings in the dreary office of a big Pall Mall firm and heeded at to the order: "CHARGE!" and forgot the battle overclerk's bumptious summons: "BOY."

Less than two years ago Cyril Cook was a typical office boy with a large Pall Mall firm. At the outbreak of war he misrepresented his age to a recruiting sergeant and joined the army. Early in 1915 his regiment was sent to the Dardanelles.

A letter to the boy's parents in East Finchley tells the story. A comrade detailed how the youngster fought in practically every important engagement.

Twice he surprised his officers by bringing in Turks he had captured at the point of the bayonet.

He had undertaken many dangerous outpost duties and his conduct and throughout all engagements had won him high praise from his commanders.

According to his comrade, the former office boy was in line for decoration. He was killed December 15th; shot through the head.

VILLA NOT DEAD--BODY PROVES TO BE THAT OF BANDIT WOUNDED BY U. S. CAVALRYMEN

Mexican Authorities Say Officially That Body is Not Villa's

Ominous Reports From Parral Giving Grave Concern To Washington Authorities--Villa Expedition is Halted

CARRANZA TROOPS ARE MOBILIZING

Chihuahua, April 21.—(By United Press)—Francisco Villa is not dead. The body supposed to be that of the bandit chief is that of a member of his band who died following the fight with Major Tompkins' detachment, and was buried in the lonely grave where the mortal remains of Villa were said to repose.

This information was given out officially here today by General Luis Guiterrez, commander of the Carranza garrison, who declares that his information is positive and authentic. As yet the body of the man thought to be Villa has not been viewed by the Americans detailed by the state department to confirm reports of his death.

Chihuahua, April 21.—Three important announcements were made here today. They were:

1.—The body supposed to be that of Villa was that of another man.

2.—American troops have been ordered not to proceed south of Parral by Major Herrero, of Parral.

3.—The United States troops in Mexico will soon be retired.

General Louis Gutierrez, [illegible] commander at Chihuahua, officially gave out the first two statements. The third was published in the newspaper El Democrata, which based its authority on an alleged dispatch from Washington saying that the United States government would need all of its troops soon for war on Germany.

Gutierrez stated that the body exhumed has proved to be that of a Villabandit and not the commander himself. He added that he did not know whether Villa is dead or alive.

Newspapers today gave Carranza credit for successfully repulsing the attack on Americans. It was also reported that concentration of the Carranza troops south of Parral is to safeguard against any further advance. Two thousand troops of the Morelos and Juarez garrison have reinforced Carranza at Parral. Ten miles north of Parral 1000 cavalrymen under Colonels Brown and Allen are massed.

Gutierrez is doing his best to prevent strained relations, but is opposed by both the Herrera faction and the populace.

The situation is a critical one and it is believed here that the knocking away of a chip will cause a clash. The Carranza troops are inactive so far as Villa is concerned.

Chihuahua American colonists now there throughout theCHRDLUPUU number but 25. People who remained there throughout the former troubles have gone away in belief that a serious crisis is imminent. General Pershing withdrew his advance detachment to save them from possible attack, according to staff officers at General Funston's headquarters today.

Pershing's main advices have not been given out but were said to contain details of the attitude shown by Carranza' troops toward the American expedition chasing Villa.

Funston's staff officers have prepared a report for Chrief of Staff Ccott. The exact nature of the incidents on which their declarations were based was not revealed, but it was stated the Americans fell back from Parral only when a plan to wipe them out became evident. The expedition was stalled today.

Washington, D. C., April 21.—Confirmation of reports that Carranza troops are being mobolized in the path of General Pershing's forces was received at both the state and war departments late today.

Mexican troops lately stationed at Chihuahua have been sent to a point south of Pershing's most advanced troops. Troops withdrawn from Sonora are being held with apparent purpose of being thrown across the American line somewhere between Casas Grandes and the American frontier.

General Scott who has reported for consultation with General Funston is now generally known to have been the result of authentic information that Pershing was menaced from the south and that his line of communication with the north was imperilled.

Secret movements of American troops have been made with an eye to this emergency, so that army officials confidently stated tonight that General Pershing is in a position to meet the worst contingency.

A fact to be ascertained by General Scott, the officers here state, is whether the movement of the Mexican troops have been dictated by Carranza or whether they have been sponsored by the governor of Chihuahua and his subordinates.

If General Scott reports that Carranza was responsible his report will go to the state department for action. If however his report shows that the movement has been undertaken by the governor of Chihuahua and various minor officials and Carranza does not stop them, then the war department will know what to expect. Recent information in Washington is that Carranza has no control over the governors of Chihuahua and Sonora.

Dispatches to the state department report continued fighting between Yaqui Indians and Carranza troops in the state of Sonora.

CLEARFIELD WILL HAVE INDEPENDENT MILITARY COMPANY

Much Interest Displayed In Movement---Thirty Enlist In Organization

District Attorney Welsh Elected Temporary Chairman—Many Prominent Men Interested In Move for Military Company.

At a preparedness meeting held last evening in the auditorium of the Y. M. C. A. it was definitely decided toorganize an independent military company in Clearfield. This meeting was called for the purpose of seeing how many would be interested in such a movement and to lay plans for the permanent organization. About fifty men and boys attended the meeting and showed much enthusiasm over the proposed organization.

District Attorney Welsh took the chair and asked for nominations for a temporary chairman. F. B. Kerr nominated Mr. Welsh who was unanimously elected. Fred Prosser was then elected secretary. These officers will be in charge until a permanent organization is formed.

Mr. Welsh then outlined the purpose of the meeting and gave a short address on "The Need of Preparedness in America." He then gave considerable information about how the rifles, uniforms and other equipment can be obtained from the national and state governments. The difference between a rifle club and a military company was then discussed by him.

Mr. Welsh has been planning for the organization of a military company here for some time and has secured a great amount of information from the national and state governments concerning such a movement.

Mr. Kerr, a graduate of West Point then told of the need of an organization of this sort in Clearfield and discussed the benefits that may be derived from the training.

After Mr. Kerr's talk a general discussion of the questions was held in which several of those present took part. Following the discussion, Clark Boyer moved that an independent military organization be formed which it was moved that a committee be appointed by the chair to enlist men in the company, to propose a name for the organization and to set a date for the next meeting. Mr. Welsh appointed G. W. Shillingford, Elmer Kurtz and John Bain on this committee.

An opportunity was then given for all those present to sign the official papers and become charter members of the organization. About thirty present signed their names and became members of this organization. Any young man wishing to join in this move is invited to do so. The committee will call on as many young men as possible during the next week and extend to them an opportunity of identifying themselves with this organization.

A meeting will be held sometime next week although the date has not been set. Announcement will be made in this paper of the meeting.

$60,000 Budget to be Taken Up Tonight by Borough Council

Desire to Insure Passage of Bond Issue Cause of Reduction In Estimates Of Funds for Immediate Use

BELIEVED REDUCED AMOUNT WILL PASS

The council will meet again tonight to consider the street paving budget following the elimination from it of a number of items which will materially reduce the sum required for immediate use.

In yesterday's report of the proceedings of the council, the Progress unconsciously gave the impression that a wide difference of opinion existed between the members of the highway committee, the burgess and the other members of the council. This is by no means correct. The council is unanimously in favor of a paving budget which will meet every requirement and would pass the original ordinance without a dissenting vote but for the fact that many members of the body fear that so large a sum might not be agreed to by the voters at this time.

It is to insure success of a bond issue of sufficient size to take care of absolutely essential repairs that the budget is being revised downward, members of the council believing that a smaller issue will stand a far better chance of success than a sum as the $100,000 issue which was vetoed by the burgess.

As it will be presented tonight the budget will carry a total of approximately $60,000, which will be specifically allotted to the paving of the following streets: Daisy street, Bigler avenue to 11th street; Nichols street, from West End to 2nd street bridge, to Turnpike avenue; Second street, from Ogden avenue to Spruce street; Third street, from Bridge street to Bigler avenue; Fourth street from Spruce street to Machine Shop alley. Other needed repairs to small sections of paved streets will be taken care of in the budget.

The suggestion offered several days ago by the Progress that a banner or sign be erected on Daisy street near the intersection of the state road, informing tourists that provision is being made as rapidly as possible for the repaving of the uptorn streets of the borough, will be presented to council tonight by the highway committee, to whom the suggestion appeals as a simple means of informing strangers that the borough is not satisfied to permit its streets to remain in the condition they are now in.

It is believed that the $60,000 budget to be offered tonight to replace the larger one will be accepted by the council, and that an election on the question will be ordered for May 16, the date of the spring primaries.

PRELIMINARY MEETING OF TWILIGHT LEAGUE HELD

It is proposed to have a team from the Cut Glass factory, Kurtz Bros. factory, and the Third Ward Hose company. The teams represented were the Y. M. C. A., Brick Yards, Clearfield Machine shops, N. Y. C. yards and the Pirates, an independent organization.

The final meeting will be held next Thursday evening, April 27, at which officers will be elected, the schedule made out and the umpires [illegible] Mr. Schreiber, physical director of the Y. M. C. A. will arrange for the use of the Driving Park this week and make other preparations for the opening of the season during the first week of May.

Germany Wants To Retain Friendship Of United States, But Will Not Comply With Wilson's Demand

BY CARL W. ACKERMAN
UNITED PRESS STAFF CORRESPONDENT

(Copyrighted 1916 by the United Press Association. Copyrighted in Great Britain.)

Berlin, April 20, via Wireless to Tuckerton, N. J., April 21.—"Germany can go no further in her concessions to the United States," Admiral von Holzendorff, chief of the German admiralty staff, declared in an interview with the United Press today. "But remember," said the German admiralty head later during the course of the interview "that we have no desire for a break with the United States. That would be insanity. We will not bring it about despite our desire to push vigorously our submarine warfare."

"We did not sink the Sussex," said Admiral Von Holzendorff. "I am as convinced of that as of anything which has happened in this war. If you could read the definite instructions, the exact orders each submarine commander has, you would understand that the torpedoing of the Sussex was impossible. Many of our submarines have returned from rounding up British vessels. They sighted scores of passenger ships going between England and America but not one of these was attacked, although we know everyone of them was carrying war munitions for the allies.

"We have definitely agreed to warn the crews and passengers of passenger liners. We have lived up to that promise in every way, but we cannot be asked to regard freight ships in the same manner. This is beyond the border for any belligerent nation. I speak in straightforward manner. We could have destroyed hundreds of thousands of tons of enemy ships since the beginning of the submarine war except for the promises we gave the United States, but we cannot go further. Five months more will see what we can do to British shipping. The ring around the British isles will grow tighter and tighter, then we shall see whether England will still maintain that she cannot make peace until Germany is destroyed.

"The allies could have had peace long ago but they still cling to the idea of starving Germany into submission. The longer they cling to the idea of starving Germany into submission, the longer we cling on and prolong the war, the greater will be their bill.

"What I said about freight ships applies only to enemy freight ships. We are not going to torpedo and we have not torpedoed without warning and without examining the ships papers or crew, any neutral ships, despite reports which the enemy is spreading. We are not out to torpedo without warning neutral ships bound for England.

"If diplomatic relations with America are broken our submarines can attack any enemy ship without warning But remember, we have no desire for a break with the United States. That will be insanity. We shall not bring it about despite our desire to push vigorously our submarine warfare. We do not think the American people want to declare war against Germany for the way she is conducting her submarine war now. I don't think the American people want to do everything they can to help England win, even by protecting England's freight ships with American lives. People must remember that it is risky to travel on the seas to and from England."

Reply To President's Note Is Not Expected to be Written for a Week

Berlin, April 21.—(By United Press)—[illegible] Wilson's note demanding that Germany abandon her present submarine policy and the threatened [illegible] of a diplomatic break was conveyed to the Kaiser and the German people today. The text of the note which was delivered to the official office at [illegible] last night by Ambassador Gerard was telegraphed to grand army headquarters for the emperor's immediate perusal. Several hours later it was circulated through Germany by the official news agency and printed in today's papers. The newspapers thus far have made no comment.

Because today is Good Friday it is practically impossible to obtain any official expression from the foreign office. It was indicated last night that no comment would be made until Chancellor von Bethmann Hollweg returns from his Easter visit to the Kaiser, probably on Monday. There is little linkelihood that any reply will be sent to Washington before the end of next week.

FRIDAY EVENING, APRIL 21, 1916.

Poor old Villa! Still dragging that bum leg southward while his head is going north!

Billious Willie Bryan is again on the job in Washington trying to throw wrenches into the machinery.

There may not be many anti-military fathers of of families in this country today but the anti-millinery paterfamilias could rout the combined armies of Europe.

It is beginning to look as if the "uncontrollable hatred" the Mexicans feel for us is nothing more than a lack of respect.

A sage rises to remark that for every .22 calibre candidate to be found on the county Republican ticket, there is a two-by-twice Democrat.

NO DODGING THIS ISSUE.

It is difficult to understand the reasoning of those who assume that there is still a possibility of further negotiations with Germany, that another series of notes might precede the breaking off of the diplomatic relations. The language of the President is too plain for mistake. He does not ask for promises or pledges, or even at this time for reparation for past injuries. He says distinctly that submarine attacks on merchantmen are "utterly incompatible with the principles of humanity, the long-established and incontrovertible rights of neutrals and the sacred immunities of noncombatants," and that therefore they must be abandoned if the official friendship between Germany and the United States is to be maintained. To assume that he will accept anything less, that assurances of the too familiar kind will avert action once more, is to cast doubt upon his sincerity and good faith. If, after enduring an intolerable situation until patience had ceased to be a virtue, he withdrew one step from the position he has at last taken, the nation would be indescribably humiliated. Such a contingency should not be considered within the range of possibility.—Public Ledger.

TEMPERANCE BODY ENDORSES THREE G.O.P. CANDIDATES

Enthusiastic Meeting of County Temperance League Held In Y.M.C.A. Building

Several Resolutions Adopted by Meeting—Remonstrance Consuls Commended by League—Dr. Buckingham, of Mahaffey Presided.

An enthusiastic meeting of the Clearfield county temperance league was held here yesterday morning and afternoon in the class room of the Y. M. C. A. here at which about fifty temperance workers were present. The principal business of the meeting was the endorsement of three candidates for the general assembly. Six Republican candidates and two Democratic candidates were acceptable to the organization but only five were endorsed.

The following Republican candidates received the endorsement of the Temperance League: A. [illegible] of Du Bois, a former member of the assembly; W. E. Peterson of [illegible] and Joseph E. Phillips of Clearfield, member of the last Assembly. A. [illegible] Woodward of Curwensville, and Mr. Currier, of Grampian, withdrew as candidates. A. H. Woodward, another Republican was acceptable but was not at the meeting.

The Democratic candidates endorsed by the League are Irwin N[illegible] of Penfield, and Archer H. Read, of Clearfield.

Following the endorsement of these candidates a number of resolutions were adopted, pledging the support of the league to the local option candidates, covering the license situation of the county, commending the efficient conduct of the remonstrance fight as waged by chief consul R. D. Swoope, of Curwensville and assistants, J. C. Arnold, of DuBois, and Oscar Mitchell, of Clearfield. A resolution was also offered commending the liquor interests for the publication of the "Blue Book."

R. D. Swoope, of Curwensville, made a short address at the afternoon session explaining the liquor situation in the county and outlining the fight to be made against the liquor candidates at the coming election.

The chair was then authorized to appoint a committee to devise plans completing the organization of the Temperance League and to make a report at the next meeting.

Dr. H. W. Buckingham, of Mahaffey, president of the Clearfield county temperance league presided over both sessions yesterday.

Austin, Texas, April 21.—The 80th anniversary of the battle of San Jacinto, from which the independence of Texas dates, was celebrated throughout the State today. In the capital the State and city offices, the banks and many places of business remained closed, while anniversary exercises appropriate to the occasion were conducted by the schools and various patriotic societies.

In the battle of San Jacinto, which was fought April 21, 1836, General Houston, with a few hundred frontiersmen defeated an army of Mexican regulars commanded by General Santa Anna, capturing Santa Anna himself. The battle was fought near the present city of Houston.

Today's Geographic Study of The Great European War Zone

"The great province of Kwangtung, third in size of the 18 political divisions of China proper, in modern times has been the center of many of the political activities which have disturbed the Celestial empire, and it is not surprising that its people should be among the first to declare their independence from the national government," says a bulletin of the National Geographic society of Washington, issued today.

"It was in this province," continues the bulletin, "that the Young China movement had its birth in 1895. The secret societies of Canton, the capital, practically financed the revolution which followed, resulting 17 years later in the overthrow of the Manchu dynasty and the establishment of a republic with Dr. Sun Yat-sen as the first president. Dr. Sun himself came from Canton and was the first graduate of the college of medicine at Kong-kong.

"The Cantonese have been an inspiration to phrase-makers for years. Because of their gift for political organization they have been called 'the Irish of China,' while their penchant for political unrest caused them to be dubbed rebellion-makers in ordinary to the Chinese people.' Historians see a striking analogy between Canton's relation to the Chinese nation in 1912 and that of Paris to provincial France in 1789.

"Many factors have contributed to the unrest in the province of Kwangtung, one of the most important being the struggle for sheer existence in a state which with an area equal to South Dakota has to support a population fifty times as great.

"Canton itself is a city of seething humanity with streets so narrow that only coolies can be employed as 'beasts of burden.' A large percentage of the people live in small boats which form a floating floor on the thick waters of the Pearl river. So precious is space that the ships are reduced to mere boxes; so close is the margin of profit and so small the purchases that beans and peanuts are sold by individual count.

"Geographically, the two provinces of Kwangf-si and Kwang-tung are cut off from Northern and Central China by mountain ranges which are moderately rich in minerals—iron, gold and a cheap grade of coal. The soil is fertile and some of the products are sugar, cocoanuts, and betel-nuts. Silk, firecrackers, matting, ginger and palm-leaf fans are the chief exports.

"The Cantonese were among the first Chinese people to come in general contact with the outside world. The Arabs reached the shores of the maritime province in the tenth century and soon these hardy sailors were acting as captains of Chinese junks sailing to Manila, Java, Borneo and Siam. The first Europeans to reach Canton by sea were the Portugese. Two years before Cortez landed in Mexico, Emanuel, king of Portugal, sent an ambassador with eight ships around the Cape of Good Hope to induce the Emperor of China to sanction trade relations with the nation of navigators. The mission was successful and the visitors were allowed to enter the harbor of Canton.

"More than a hundred years later the English arrived and met with a hostile reception on account of a recent rupture in the friendly relations between the Portuguese and the natives. It was not until 1685 that the emperor finally sanctioned trade relations with Great Britian, naming Canton as the only port of entry.

"Of Canton's population, variously estimated at from 900,000 to 1,500,000 only about 400 are foreigners, most of whom reside in the Sha-mien settlement, an artificial island reclaimed by the British from an extensive mud flat.

"Although characterized by Caucasian observers as sallen in their political antipathies, the Cantonese are a cheerful, industrious and intelligent people in their daily lives. They accept philosophically their many hardships and receive with stoical fortitunde the visitations of pestilence, which from time to time removes much of the surplus population.

"Perhaps it was the scarcity of food which caused the Cantonese to include in their menus many 'delicacies' not so classed by Western people. For example, there is a breed of dog which is fattened in this great city and much prized by those who can afford more than a rice diet. Cats, hawks and birds' nests are also regard as appetizing viands."

SAGE TEA DANDY TO DARKEN HAIR

It's Grandmother's Recipe to Bring Back Color and Lustre to Your Hair

You can turn gray, faded hair beautifully dark and lustrous almost over night if you'll get a 50-cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound" at any drug store. Millions of bottles of this old famous Sage Tea recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, are sold annually, says a well-known druggist here, because it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that no one can tell it has been applied.

Those whose hair is turning gray or becoming faded have a surprise awaiting them, because after one or two applications the gray hair vanishes and your locks become luxuriantly dark and beautiful.

This is the age of youth. Gray-haired, unattractive folks aren't wanted around. So get busy with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound tonight and you'll be delighted with . . . dark, handsome hair and your youthful appearance within a few days.

This preparation is a toilet requisite and is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

Fashion Hints By Margaret Mason

BY MARGARET MASON
(Written for the United Press.)

To have all things harmonious
As much as she was able,
In home and dress and everything,
Essayed aesthetic Mabe

And so they'd be in rythm with
Her nifty garden smocks
The sole blooms in her garden were
Stocks, hollyhocks and phlox.

New York, April 21.—When you stand in the midst of your garden, whether it be a sunken Italian one or a raised window box, do you want to look the fairest flower of the lot?

If you do, it's very simple, Maud. All you need is a smock of becoming hue, a wide floppy straw hat and one of those fascinating garden baskets raised on a long wicker stick.

All your zinnias, gladiolas, begonias, and cannas will simply droop their heads in the face of such ravishing combination.

Surely Maud Muller must have been thus attired when her Judge lingered a bit as he rode by. Most any good judge nowadays would do the same.

Beginning at the top of the crowning glory of the garden outfit is the hat; and its only essentials are that it be big, floppy and blossoming.

Those of the cane chair seat weave are smart, bound in a color to match your smock, with a twist of the same around the crown. Peanut straws, leghorns, panamas and loose grass woven hats are all lovely; and wide brimmed ones covered in flowered cretonne or awning stripes to match your skirt also are good.

If you want to go in for Oriental gardening the artistic Cone hats are perfect, but if you top yourself off thus you will have to taboo the smock and awning stripe skirt, for garments modeled after a Chinese woman's coat and skirt. Otherwise your outfit would not be in perfect accord according to aesthetic Mabel. These effects really are the very newest spring crop of gardening gear and most original.

The awning stripe skirts this season are not only the broad stripes of a bright color alternating with white, like we had last year; but revel in a riotous array of colored stripes in four or five hectic hues, like a Bakst ballet. They all are very short and button down the front with either yawning slashed pockets set in either side, or poffy pouched ones set on.

The artistic willow baskets set on their long sticks come in either natural coloring or may be stained to suit. They contain, of course, the most fascinating collection of gardening tools: a trowel whose handle is gay with paint, a pair of shears and your garden gloves.

Adorable watering pots blooming with hand painted nosegays, and rakes with well decorated handles are a few other indispensible accessories of the fashionable garden.

Oh yes, and there are quaint and practical garden aprons too, the best model of which are the newest, is of striped material bound in a plain color with a bib and straps over the shoulders.

It is long so that you may stoop in the wet grass without dampening your skirt or your ardor and yet at will it buttons up to a desirable shortness and by this act turns itself into a capacious pocket.

So open up your garden gate
Besmok yourself all up to date
And seeds of love will quickly grow
In hearts of all who see you so—and sow.

SHIVELY AVERS HE HAS GAINED 3 MORE POUNDS

Why it Has Restored My Health so Perfectly that it Seems a Miracle"

Yes, sir this Tanlac beats anything I have ever before used," declared P Shively, a well-known farmer who lives at 1007 Third St., Altoona Pa

I feel now as I was so good. Tanlac has restored my health so perfectly that it seems more like a miracle than anything else.

I suffered from stomach trouble. My indigestion was all out of order so I couldn't eat Whenever I undertook to eat anything solid, I would suffer from gas on my stomach and a belching feeling that lasted for several hours afterward

My nerves were also out of order and I couldn't sleep sound and restful at night I would wake up in the morning feeling heavy and tired and I could scarcely muster enough energy to get up and dress myself I seldom ever could eat breakfast

After taking two bottles of Tanlac my stomach seems in perfect order I can eat good and never suffer with indigestion in all my life My weight has increased three pounds by Tanlac. I simply can't get enough to eat now.

Tanlac is now sold in Clearfield exclusively by Woodward & McCracken where the premier preparation can be had

ON THE SCREEN

BLOOD HOUNDS IN MOTION PICTURES

"Eliza's exciting passage of the Ohio River, leaping from cake to cake of swiftly moving ice," as advertised, announced and translated, with more or less realism, to the stage of the innumerable "Uncle Tom's Cabin" shows for years past (and probably for centuries to come) may be accepted as a mild affair against the possibilities of a chase by real bloodhounds for the edification of moving picture "fans."

In the Bluebird Photoplay, "The Grip of Jealousy," to be the attraction at the Opera House, on Monday evening, an exciting chase by bloodhounds of a girl slave is photographed in actual detail. The methods of handling the dogs, the way they take up and follow the scent, and the details of tracing and finding the object of their search are pictured in interesting minuteness.

Of added interest is the fact that the scene was taken during a drenching rain, driven by a gale of wind, while the trackers were operating in the undergrowth and tangled brush of a dense forest Not once in a year, among all the pictures that are produced in the country, does the director of a company of photoplayers have a downpour of rain to fit a scene just when and how he wants it

Rain generally is produced for picture purposes by artificial effect—but in "The Grip of Jealousy" only nature itself could supply the theatrical effect that was absolutely essential to a proper showing of scenes The weather man, rare genius of contraries, surprised himself and everybody else by sending the deluge to drench the photoplayers and lend the realism of Mother Nature to make a most remarkable scene absolutely authentic in every requisite.

VERA CRUZ KEEPS ANNIVERSARY

STATE ROADS DAY WILL BE BEST EVER HELD

Indications Show it Will go Far Ahead of Predecessors

Harrisburg, April 1?.—That the State-wide Good Roads Day of 1916 will go far ahead of its predecessor in good results is evidenced by reports received at the State Highway Department [illegible] from county organizations throughout the State. One of the most characteristic indications of this is the activity being taken by civic bodies, chambers of Commerce, boards of trade and other like organizations in furthering the project.

In Warren the Chamber of Commerce, which issues a monthly bulletin called "The Warren Idea," is foremost in urging all citizens to make the State-wide Good Roads Day successful. In the April issue of the paper there is an editorial which says in part:

"Undoubtedly our organization will be called upon to take the lead in organizing Warren County for 'bigger and better G. R. D.' Our officers believe they accomplished a very important work last year in the organization of a county-wide effort for improved roads. The success attained in the effort justifies the hope that similar methods pursued this year, with the same enthusiastic cooperation on the part of all, centering the activities of the day in the township boards of supervisors, will produce far more important results."

The success of the 1915 "State-wide Good Roads Day" is then reviewed and attention is called to the fact that approximately 1,500 men and boys and 300 teams worked hard all day to improve the Warren County roads. In many localities, the paper continues, women and girls helped by providing a bountiful noonday luncheon and a few women worked on the roads. The article concludes by calling upon Warren County to set a fast pace for other counties of the state.

1200 WILL TALK ACROSS CONTINENT

Many Prominent Americans Will Attend National Conference

New York, April 19.—(By United Press)—A national conference to promote the use of school buildings as community and civic centers began in New York today and will end April 22.

The conference is attended by seventy community leaders from different parts of America, including Professor John Dewey, of Columbia University; Dr. John H. Finley, commissioner of education in New York; Henry Bruere, city chamberlain, of New York, Joseph Lee, president of the Playground and Recreation Association of America, Edward J. Ward, of the United States bureau of education, Mrs. J.J. Borden Harriman, Professor Samuel McCune Lindsay, William G. Wilcox, president of the New York board of education, Meyer Bloomfield of Boston and Charles McCarthy of Wisconsin.

The president of the conference is Dr. Luther H. Gulick, president of the Camp Fire girls of America.

Among the speakers will be Professor Franz Boas, Alfred G. Arnold, founder of the Little Country Theatre of North Dakota; Percy Mackaye, Edward J. Ward, professor James Ford, of Harvard, and Dr. Haven Emerson, New York City's commissioner of health.

A leading note of the conference will be the financing of the wider use of school buildings through methods of local self-support. The activities of community centers include social dancing, the teaching of immigrants, vocation and employment bureaus, health teaching, motion pictures, dramatics, community orchestras and choruses, athletics and craftwork.

IDAHO REPUBLICAN CONVENTION

Twin Falls, Ida., April 19.—Delegates are gathering for the Republican State convention of Idaho, which will meet tomorrow to select delegates to the presidential nominating convention at Chicago. The first choice of Idaho Republicans for the head of the national ticket is Senator William E. Borah. Opinion expressed by the party leaders, however, indicate that, with Borah out of the running, the delegation will be ready to support Roosevelt, if his name is presented to the Chicago convention.

TO CRIPPLE GERMAN TRADE

Paris, April 19.—Economic results that will be felt throughout the world are expected to follow the conference of the Entente Allies which will meet in Paris tomorrow to discuss a plan of campaign to successfully meet German trade competition after the close of the war. The principal topic of discussion will be a scheme for the mutual exchange of commodities under a tariff system favorable to the allied nations. The proposed tariff system, according to plans tentatively outlined, will call for the establishment of minimum rates among the allies and their colonies, reasonable rates for neutrals and strong discrimination against all dealings with the Teutonic allies. The conference promises to be a most imposing gathering from the viewpoint of its personnel. Delegates from England, Russia, Italy, Belgium and France have already arrived in Paris and among them are several cabinet ministers. The sessions of the conference are expected to continue through the remainder of the week. President Poincaire has accepted an invitation to preside at the opening.

ABSOLUTE CONSCRIPTION URGED IN ENGLAND

London, April 20.—(By United Press)—All-round conscription is being more and more strongly urged in England.

It is only partial as yet. Unmarried men up to the age of 41 have been called to the colors, but with numerous exceptions. The call for married men has applied only to those who have declared their willingness to serve.

The element known as the "ginger group" wants to make the compulsory summons all-embracing. It is also urged that men up to 45 be included.

The "ginger group" contention is that the war is now at its most critical stage and many more men are needed immediately.

If the enemy is not beaten during the next few months [illegible] the London Express, "the struggle may go on until bankruptcy is [illegible] and we are forced to [illegible] peace. The [illegible] demand prompt, swift action."

Hot Water for Sick Headaches

Tells why everyone should drink hot water with phosphate in it before breakfast.

Headache of any kind, is caused by autointoxication—which means self-poisoning. Liver and bowel poisons called toxins, sucked into the blood, through the lymph ducts, excite the heart which pumps the blood so fast that it congests in the smaller arteries and veins of the head producing violent, throbbing pain and distress, called headache. You become nervous, despondent, sick, feverish and miserable, your meals sour and almost nauseate you. Then you resort to acetanilide, aspirin or the bromides which temporarily relieve but do not rid the blood of these irritating toxins.

A glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, drank before breakfast for awhile, will not only wash these poisons from your system and cure you of headache but will cleanse, purify and freshen the entire alimentary canal.

Ask your pharmacist for a quarter pound of limestone phosphate. It is inexpensive, harmless as sugar and almost tasteless, except for a sourish twinge which is not unpleasant.

If you aren't feeling your best, if tongue is coated or you wake up with bad taste, foul breath or have colds, indigestion, biliousness, constipation or sour, acid stomach, begin the phosphated hot water cure to rid your system of toxins and poisons.

Results are quick and it is claimed that those who continue to flush out the stomach, liver and bowels every morning never have any headache or know a miserable moment.

AN OFFICE BOY WHO WAS A GENUINE HERO IN BATTLE

BY WILBUR S. FORREST
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

London, April 19.—There has just reached London the story of a $5 a week office boy, 15 years old, who died a hero among the bravest of the brave of King George's finest on Gallipoli peninsula.

It is a story to thrill the heart of every office boy in the United States, this recital of what happened to Cyril Cook, after he left the drab surroundings in the dreary office of a big Pall Mall firm and heeded to the order: "CHARGE!" and forgot the horrid overclerk's bumptious summons: "BOY."

Less than two years ago Cyril Cook was a typical office boy with a large Pall Mall firm. At the outbreak of war he misrepresented his age to a recruiting sergeant and joined the army. Early in 1915 his regiment was sent to the Dardanelles.

A letter to the boy's parents in East Finchley tells the story. A comrade detailed how the youngster fought in practically every important engagement.

Twice he surprised his officers by bringing in Turks he had captured at the point of the bayonet.

He had undertaken many dangerous outpost duties and his conduct and throughout all engagements had won him high praise from his commanders.

According to his comrade, the former office boy was in line for decoration. He was killed December 15th; shot through the head.
